EARTH TREMBLES AND PEOPLE DIE

Southern Mexico Visited With Awful Quake

Two Cities of Interior Laid Flat and and More Than Five Hundred Killed.

REPORTS LACKING DETAILS.

Mexico City, April 16.—Additional advices from southern points increase the estimate of the disaster wrought by the earthquake, which shook this city and spread death and desolation throughout the southern districts, more especially in Guerrero. It is now said the first estimate of 500 dead may be below the actual figures. Poor wire communication makes it difficult work securing authentic information.

City of Mexico, April 16.—The National Bank of Mexico has received a telegram saying that 500 lives were lost in the destruction of Chilpancingo and Chilapa by earthquake. The telegram adds that both cities were completely destroyed. In governmental circles the report is not credited. It is admitted that both cities were leveled to the ground but it is not thought that the death toll will even approach 500 owing to the fact that the houses are massive affairs, built of stone in order to resist earthquake shocks.

Federal authorities here have been appealed to by governors of the districts of Bravos and Chilapa for tents as the inhabitants in the stricken cities are now living in the open having constructed dwellings of palm leaves and branches. The governor of Guerrero has dispatched military engineers and troops to the destroyed district.

Are Far From Railways.

Both cities are so far removed from railways that it is impossible to obtain accurate and rapid intelligence of the disaster. Chilpancingo is the capital of the state of Guerrero and four years ago was visited by an earthquake which killed and wounded many inhabitants and destroyed a large part of the town, the population of the town is 7,498. The population of the city of Chilapa is 15,000 and that place is the home of the bishop of the Catholic church who administers to the ecclesiastical affairs of the entire region.

No word has been received from the bishop's palace and it is not yet known whether or not he was a victim of the shock.

Fear for a Third City.

Midway between Chilpancingo and Chilapa is located the city of Tixtla. As no word has been received from that place it is feared it also has been destroyed. According to the movements of the earthquake Tixtla would be in its direct line and if the city has escaped it is only by a miracle. All communication with the west coast has been cut off since the moment of the first big shock and it is not known to what extent that region has suffered. The nearest big town, Acapulco, 131 kilometers southwest has not been heard from.

Both the volcanoes of Celima and Jorullo, are in this region and the people fear the earthquake may cause these mountains to become more active and to destroy much property and many lives.

Greatest in Past Twenty Years.

Messages from as far north as San Luis Potosi and as far south as San Juan Bautista, in Tabasco, report feeling the shocks in varying degrees. But at no place up to date has the loss of life or great damage of property been reported except in Guerrero. From these intelligences it seems that the last tremble was greater in extent than any that has preceded it during the last half century.

The boundary line of the northern zone of the present earthquake, according to reports received up to this time, show that it extended across the country in a northwesterly direction for over 400 miles and that the southern extent of the shock covered 600 miles, making in all 24,000 square miles affected by the last shock.

A confirmed report just received shows that 11 persons were killed and 27 injured in the town of Chilpancingo and Chilapa, which were Thaddeus Shively has resigned the rectorship of St. Chrysostom's Episcopal church. The church is one of the most fashionable in the city.

Auburn, N. Y., April 16.—Seward Sexton, who was electrocuted in Auburn prison this morning, showed the most wonderful resisting powers seen in years. State Electrician Davis found it necessary to give the man five distinct contacts, varying from 1,740 volts at three amperes, to 1,740 volts at eight amperes. Sexton was convicted of murdering Thomas Mahoney.

completely destroyed. The shocks continued today and the natives are panic stricken.

Among the dead is the wife of Postal Inspector Guerra and a child of Postmaster A'eman. The utmost panic prevails everywhere and the people are fleeing to open country. The earth continues to rock at half hour intervals and many minor shocks are completing the work of destruction of the first quakes.

ROUSTERS SCARCE; REASONS PLENTY

Two Theories Advanced By Local River Men

One Says They Must Be Treated Better,
Have Better Food and Better
Hours.

OTHER SAYS INHERENT FAULT

When it becomes necessary for steamboats to use the police of a city to secure enough rousters to operate the boat, as was the case with the Buttrifft at Nashville yesterday, and when this stringent method fails to accomplish any results, in the minds of the river men in Paducah a crisis has been reached in river navigation. After offering a number of inducements to secure rousters, a telegram from that packet to Captain G. F. Phillips here, their agent, states that the police were invoked and used their power to round up vagrants to put them to work on the boat, but the net results of all their efforts were to prevent the Buttrifft from leaving Nashville Sunday or Monday, and may perhaps cause still further delay.

Nashville has always been a particularly hard point to secure rousters but the scarcity is felt no less in Paducah. The Fowler packets in the Evansville trade for the last several weeks have found it difficult to get enough hands to handle their business, the result being to throw them greatly off schedules. The Lee packets have had the same trouble and in a more or less degree, all the packets and towboats. That there must be some basic reason for the scarcity of negroes who will work on the river, is realized by the older heads around the river, and their ideas have become shaped into two clearly defined principles, which on one or the other every river man can be found.

Interviewing two largely interested river men this morning, these two theories of the cause of the scarcity of labor were expressed, the first man stating what may be termed the new idea on the river:

"The time has come," he said, "when river men must realize that conditions have changed in steamboating. It used to be that negroes had to work on the river. They do not now. Every city now offers opportunity for street work or building work at wages which are attractive, but the kind of work and the wages paid do not cause the scarcity of labor on the river. In my observation, the sole cause of the falling off in labor is due to the treatment the rousters get on the boats. You may call it fastidiousness in the rousters, but it is a fact that they have gotten to the point where they won't stand the cursing of the officers, the irregular hours and poor food. While the city work and wages would not prevent a normal supply of river labor, they do serve to make the rousters independent. They like the river life, but the fact that they can get other work at good wages, short hours, and personal treatment,

REHKOPF MATTER UP TO GRAND JURY

E. Rehkopf, president of the bankrupt E. Rehkopf Saddlery company, was indicted by the grand jury in the circuit court this morning on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses. It is alleged that E. Rehkopf, as president of the E. Rehkopf Saddlery company, represented to the American-German National bank that he held two drafts, one on Hoster & Cobb, of Bethel Springs, Tenn., and another on Roper & Belling, of New Haven, Ky., for $75 each, for goods shipped to the firm when there was no money due him from either of the firms.

Final Doom Is Pronounced Against The Famous "Red Light" District of Paducah

PLANT RESUMES ITS OPERATIONS

Mergenthaler-Horton Basket
Company Has Receiver and
Economy Will be Watchword
Under Eyes of Court

PRESENT MANAGER REMAINS.

The Mergenthaler-Horton Basket company, one of Paducah's largest industries, has been placed in the hands of William P. Hummel, as receiver. The action was taken on application of George E. Kellogg, of New York, one of the stockholders. Additional stock of $150,000 was recently authorized to lift a heavy debt, but Kellogg thought by economical management the company could pay off without mortgaging the plant, and filed his petition for a receiver and injunction to prevent the issue. The plant is to resume operations at once under the management of Walter Smith, the present manager. It employs about 300 hands, some being fine mechanics and the weekly pay roll is one of the largest of any manufacturing firm in Paducah.

Attorney Peter Seay Injured.
Mayfield, Ky., April 16.—Peter Seay, the lawyer, is confined at home with two broken ribs. Mr. Seay had been to Murray on business and was returning home Friday afternoon, when he was thrown against a seat in the car.

Excepting Judge William Reed's now famous order, cleaning out Paducah "red light" district, the erection of a new public school building on the Lyon property on Clark street between Eighth and Ninth streets, will have the most salutary effect toward cleaning out a disreputable section of the city of any measure heretofore attempted. Instead of being daunted by the statement that the Lyon property would be disadvantageous because of its proximity to the famous "900," the majority of the school trustees favor taking the property because the erection of the building would necessitate the removal of the houses of ill fame and saloons a safe distance from the school building. City ordinances stipulate that no saloons or other objectionable houses shall be operated within three blocks of a public school. The residents in that neighborhood will be to a man behind the school board in the erection of the building, because of its purifying effect on their section of the city. The committee appointed to secure a site for the new building have found no property better located or of greater altitude, and the fact that there is only one building on the large lot, makes it cheaper than any other lot of similar size would be.

JACKSON-HARGIS TOOL CONFESSES

Lexington, Ky., April 16.—In the trial of William Britton, for conspiracy in the assassination of James Cockrill, John Smith today made a complete confession. He implicated Hargis and Jackson, who, he testified, planned the murder.

REMITTANCE MAN IN BAD.

Collects Advance Installment on Imaginary Furniture.

Paul Russell, who says he gets money from "home" where he has a "wad," but who refuses to divulge the name of the town, was held over to the grand jury on the charge of obtaining money by false pretenses this morning. His case went before the grand jury at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Russell was charged with taking 50 cents from Albert Beasley, colored, residing on the old city hospital property, as an advance installment on a 12 piece mahogany suite of furniture Russell was to have shipped to town from a Chicago house.

GUS G. SINGLETON CITED IN COURT

Must Appear Before Judge
Evans for Alleged Contempt

Trustee Boyd, For Rehkopf Creditors,
Charges Him With Interfering With Sale.

STRANGE SCENE IS ENACTED

"A. E. Boyd, trustee in bankruptcy, in the above matter having filed his petition praying for a citation against Gus G. Singleton, requiring him to show cause why he should not be fined for contempt for interfering with and obstructing the said trustee in the performance of his duties as an officer of this court, it is now ordered that a rule issue against him, Gus G. Singleton, requiring him to answer and show cause at the federal court room in Louisville at 10 o'clock, a. m., May 4, why he should not be fined for contempt as prayed in said petition."

This order was entered by Judge Walter Evans yesterday.

The petition filed by Trustee Boyd grew out of a scene that occurred during the sale of the Rehkopf homestead March 5, at the court house. In that sale Colonel Singleton is reported to have said that he would "give Mr. Bradshaw $100 as part of the profits he expected to make out of the sale of the homestead if he would quit bidding on the property."

He made this statement because he was aroused by what he considered the pathetic sight of Mr. Rehkopf's daughter bidding at the sale.

Mr. Bradshaw represented creditors and was bidding. Several fights were narrowly averted at the sale.

When the facts of the case were presented to Judge Evans he issued the order. The penalty if Colonel Singleton is convicted of contempt in his actions at the sale, may be a fine or imprisonment in the discretion of the judge.

MRS. HOLMAN'S DEFENSE.

Says She Always Thought White Was a Good Man.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 16.—The Leader today published a copyrighted statement several columns long by Mrs. J. C. Holman, mother of Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, in which she justifies herself of the charges made against her. Mrs. Holman says she did not assist Jerome in the prosecution and states that Stanford White always was a good man so far as her knowledge goes. She says his attention to Evelyn was disinterested. A general denial of all charges made by Evelyn in her testimony is made. She said if Evelyn had told her the story she alleges she told Thaw, she would have killed White.

LONG DELAYED SEATS FOR HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

The long delayed seats for the auditorium at the Washington school arrived last night from Grand Rapids, Mich., and were this morning delivered at the school house. There are 325 and they will be placed in the auditorium if original plans are carried out. The seats now in use in the auditorium will be removed to recitation rooms. The seats were ordered several months ago and delayed because the manufacturers had other orders ahead to fill.

PROPERTY SUIT IS PENDING.

Pending the decision of the Tennessee supreme court on the question whether the reorganized Cumberland Presbyterian or the Presbyterian church of the United States owns the property of the old Cumberland church organization, the members of the Cumberland Presbyterian church in this city are making active preparations to continue their organization. The Rev. Joseph McLeskey, of Newbern, Tenn., has been called to fill the pulpit and has accepted. The services for the present are being held in the county court house and it will continue to be the place of meeting until a new church is built. The Tennessee supreme court will render a decision in May on the question of property rights, and the Cumberland members all over the country will abide by the decision in this test case. If the union is ratified and the property assigned to the Presbyterian church the Cumberland members here, 80 in number, will build a church, the construction to begin in August. The Presbyterian church here has possession of the building, a majority of the members favoring the union.

S.S.S. PURIFIES THE BLOOD

There is no other part of our physical system upon which so much depends as upon the blood. The muscles, nerves, bones, sinews, skin, and other portions of the body are sustained, developed and enabled to perform their different duties, because they are supplied with nourishment and healthful properties through the circulation. In various ways the blood becomes contaminated and polluted. A sluggish, inactive condition of the system, and torpid state of the avenues of bodily waste, will leave the refuse and waste matter of the body to sour and form uric and other acids, which are absorbed into the blood and Rheumatism, or some itching, disfiguring skin disease is the result. Muddy, sallow complexions, eruptions, spots, pimples, etc., all show that some humor has taken root in the circulation and rendered it sour and unfit for nourishing the body. There is scarcely any disease which cannot be traced to the blood. Often the disease-tainted blood of parents is handed down to children and their lives are a continual battle against disease in some form, usually of a scrofulous nature. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Skin Disease troubles, and until this vital fluid is purified they cannot be cured. For all blood diseases S. S. S. is the best remedy ever put upon the market. This great medicine is made of roots, herbs and barks of recognized blood-purifying and building-up properties. It goes down into the circulation and removes all poisons, impurities and humors, supplies the blood with the healthful properties it needs and completely cures blood diseases of every kind. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Skin Diseases, Sores and Ulcers, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., because it purifies the blood. Book on the blood and medical advice free.

FAIR PLAY.

The American People are Noted for Their Love of Fair Play. So True is This, That It May Be Said To Be a National Trait of Character.

The man who strikes another a foul blow, or maliciously tries to injure him in his business, or in his social standing is detested and abhorred. The American people are not generally slow to manifest their disapproval of such unfair treatment when an opportunity is afforded.

Illustrative of this disposition is the fact that although base, false and malicious attacks upon Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, and his widely celebrated Family Medicines have sometimes injured the sale of these meritorious remedies for a time, yet when such unjust assaults have been met and their falsehoods completely refuted, a natural reaction has followed and their sale has been fully restored again.

In the case of the Ladies' Home Journal, of Philadelphia, which, in 1904, published a most malicious, false, slanderous and libelous article, attacking Dr. Pierce and his "Favorite Prescription"—the well-known cure for woman's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments—Dr. Pierce brought suit in the Supreme Court of the State of New York against the publishers of that paper and a verdict was given the Doctor, the defendant being for a substantial amount ($16,000.00) yet not for enough to properly recompense Dr. Pierce for the great injury and injustice done him. While he and his "Favorite Prescription" were completely vindicated and the latter remedy was proven, in open court, to contain no alcohol and none of the dangerous and injurious drugs which the above mentioned paper had alleged it contained, yet Dr. Pierce has, through his attorneys, moved for a new trial, claiming that thereby he may finally be accorded a more just and adequate compensation for the great damage which he was made to suffer by reason of the base falsehoods published concerning him and his business.

There are hundreds of thousands of people all over this blessed country of ours who have been cured of obstinate chronic diseases through the use of Dr. Pierce's Medicines and it is only natural that such people should rise up and speak their sentiments pretty freely when Dr. Pierce and his medicines are so unjustly attacked.

These grateful patients of Dr. Pierce are to be found in almost every hamlet and country village, and in the farmhouses and mechanics' cottages in every nook and corner of this great country. Common gratitude prompts such people to stand up and defend Dr. Pierce and his medicines against unjust and malicious attacks.

Dr. Pierce's Medicines have been on sale in drug stores all over this country and in many foreign lands for more than forty years and yet their sale continues to grow in a substantial and most gratifying way. This could not be the case if they were not remedies of more than ordinary merit.

WHAT DO THEY CURE?

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is not advertised as a "Cure All" but admirably fulfills a stunner of purpose, being a superior and most positive remedy for one class of diseases only—those easily recognized weaknesses, derangements, irregularities and painful disorders peculiar to women. It is a powerful, yet gentle, invigorating, tonic and strengthening nerve. For weak, worn-out, over-worked women—no matter what has caused the break-down—whether it be from too frequent bearing of children or from much worry, care, or over exertion of any kind, "Favorite Prescription" will be found most efficient in building up the strength, regulating all the womanly functions, banishing pain and bringing about a regular and healthy, vigorous condition of the whole female system. Thus it corrects prolapsus, or falling of womb, retroversion, anteversion and other displacements of the female pelvic organs, due to weakness or over exertion, lifting or fatiguing over-work. In short, it makes weak women strong and sick women well.

As to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery it has a very large range of application, yet it is by no means recommended as a "Cure All." It possesses marvelous alterative, or blood cleansing, properties and is at the same time a most invigorating tonic, or strength giver. It exerts a specific, cleansing, soothing and healing effect upon all the lining mucous membranes of the system; hence, its great curative value in all catarrhal affections, no matter where located.

In Chronic Nasal Catarrh, it is well to cleanse the passages two or three times a day with Dr. Sie's Catarrh Remedy fluid, while persisting in the use of the "Golden Medical Discovery" for its blood cleansing and specific curative effects upon the diseased mucous membrane. It will cure a very large per cent. of all cases, even after they have reached the ulcerative, or chronic stage, and no matter of how many years' standing they may be. It is equally efficacious in affections of the mucous lining of the larynx, bronchitis and respiratory organs in general, thus curing bronchitis, laryngitis and other affections giving rise to obstinate, hang-on-coughs. It is not so good in acute coughs following sudden colds as in the lingering, chronic coughs. Now must the "Golden Medical Discovery" be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that, but for all obstinate hang-on-coughs due to laryngeal or bronchial irritation and kindred affections of the throat which, if neglected or badly treated, are likely to lead up to consumption, the "Discovery" can be relied upon to produce the best curative results.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is from its tonic and specific curative control over mucous surfaces, especially efficacious in curing indigestion, dyspepsia, weak stomach and "Liver Complaint," or biliousness. Even ulceration of the stomach and bowels has in thousands of cases been cured by it; also obstinate chronic diarrhoea.

In addition to all the foregoing, not the least valuable of the marvelously efficacious properties possessed by the "Discovery" is the unequalled regulating and strengthening effect exerted by it over the heart's action. It has made some wonderful cures of very pronounced valvular and other affections of the heart. The reason why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures so wide a range of diseases is made plain in a booklet sent free on request mailed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. If interested, send for it. The powerful alterative or blood purifying properties possessed by the "Discovery" will naturally suggest its use for the cure of blotches, pimples, eruptions, as eczema, salt-rheum, and other skin affections in all of which it has made remarkable cures; also in scrofulous sores and old, open ulcers, or eating sores. To heal the latter, use Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve as a local application, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" to correct the blood and cleanse the system. A box will be mailed to any address on receipt of fifty-four cents in stamps. If your drug-store don't have it in stock, address Dr. Pierce, as above.

CITY PARK PLAN MEETS APPROVAL

Tenth, Broadway and Kentucky Avenue the Site

Broadway Sidewalk, Curb and Gutter Improvements Are Ordered Made By Lower Board.

D. A. R. DRINKING FOUNTAINS

An ordinance granting the park commissioners power to create a park in the middle of Tenth street between Broadway and Kentucky avenue was given first passage by the councilmen last night. The city has purchased 100 feet through the block where the old warehouses stood for the continuation of Tenth street. On each side of the street the plan is to have a walk, 5 feet wide, and a driveway, 20 feet wide. This leaves 50 feet for the park. Trees, flowers and seating arrangements will be prepared, making a pleasant place to rest as well as pretty spot for the eye. A walk three feet wide in the center is planned.

It was discovered in the new ordinance, fixing licenses for the city, a wild west show had been omitted. A license of $50 is charged for a circus, but the representative of the wild west show coming to the city the latter part of the month, protested to the mayor that his show was not a circus and asked that a license of only $25 be charged. Mayor Yeiser brought the matter before the council for action. An amendment to the ordinance was given first and second reading, fixing the license at $50, and $5 for each side show attached. The provision includes a dog and pony show, fixing the license in that case at $10 to $20 in the discretion of the mayor, and $3 for each side show. The provision applies to a show charging 50 cents for admission, and those that charge under that sum are to pay a license of $25 to $50 according as the mayor sees fit.

Broadway Improvement.

Second reading was given the ordinance providing for curbs, gutters, and sidewalks on Broadway from Fifteenth street to the city limits. Omission is made of the property of Mr. W. F. Bradshaw. The remaining property owners deeded the necessary property to the city.

Property owners on First street between Broadway and Washington street filed a request that sidewalks on the east side of the street be not constructed and that the railroad tracks be put there, so as to have a wider street. Sidewalks will be constructed on the west side.

structed on the west side. The council, granted the request and ordered the city engineer alter the plans accordingly.

C. E. Blacknall asked that his license be transferred from 204 South Ninth street to 1533 Broad street. No complaint has been received about a saloon being there and licenses have been granted previously. Still the members thought when a license is transferred notices should be posted. The city solicitor said the ordinance was not violated directly, but he did think the spirit of the ordinance was being violated. The council voted to have the notices posted, but afterwards reconsidered by request and granted permission to open the saloon at once.

A petition was read from property owners on Clark street between Tenth and Eleventh streets, asking that the street be graveled.

A number of the employees of the railroad have to pass this street and in rainy weather it is extremely muddy. The railroad company owns the property. It was referred to the city solicitor to investigate and get a deed from the company.

Miscellaneous Business.

Several transfers of lots in Oak Grove cemetery were ratified by the board.

Allowance of $350 for drinking fountains was granted. The location will be selected by the D. A. R. committee and the city engineer.

The board of public works was given permission to take out $5,000 insurance on the market house.

A letter was read from the Woman's club requesting the boards to be present at an address on education by Mrs. H. W. Mengel at the parish house of the Grace Episcopal church. The invitation was accepted.

S. L. Davis claimed his property was assessed too high and the matter was referred to the proper persons to make changes if justifiable.

The matter of extending Jackson street from Guthrie street to the city limits was referred to the joint street committee.

Final passage was given the ordinance, increasing salary of the city engineer and a request from W. J. McPherson, electrical inspector, asking his salary be increased, was referred to the joint fire committee.

Councilmen Lindsey and Herzog were absent.

Arbor Talk to Children Delivered by Pres. Roosevelt Through Press

Washington, April 16.—President Roosevelt has addressed "to the school children of the United States" a message on the significance of Arbor day, which during the month of April is celebrated in many states. He says to them it is well that they should celebrate the day thoughtfully and that when they help to preserve our forests or to plant new ones they are acting the part of good citizens. The message is as follows:

"To the School Children of the United States:
"Arbor day (which means simply 'tree day') is now observed in every state in our union—and mainly in the schools. At various times from January to December but chiefly in this month of April, you give a day or part of a day to special exercises and perhaps to actual tree planting. In recognition of the importance of trees to us as a nation, and of what they yield in adornment, comfort and useful products to the communities in which you live.
"It is well that you should celebrate your arbor day thoughtfully, for within your lifetime the nation's need of trees will become serious. We of an older generation can get along with what we have, though with growing hardship; but in your full manhood and womanhood you will want what nature once so bountifully supplied, and man so thoughtlessly destroyed; and because of that want you will reproach us, not for what we have used but for what we have wasted.
"For the nation, as for the man or woman and the boy or girl, the road to success is the right use of what we have and the improvement of present opportunity. If you neglect to prepare yourselves now for the duties and responsibilities which will fall upon you later, if you do not learn the things which you will need to know when your school days are over, you will suffer the consequences. So any nation which in its youth lives only for the day, reaps without sowing, and consumes without husbanding, must expect the penalty the prodigal, whose labor could with difficulty find him the bare means of life.
"A people without children would face a hopeless future; a country without trees is almost as hopeless; forests which are so used that they cannot renew themselves will soon vanish, and with them all their benefits. A true forest is not merely a storehouse full of wood, but, as it were, a factory of wood, and at the same time a reservoir of water. When you help to preserve our forests or to plant new ones you are acting the part of good citizens. The value of forestry deserves, therefore, to be taught in the schools, which aim to make good citizens of you. If your Arbor day exercises help you to realize what benefits each one of you receive from the forests, and how by your assistance these benefits may continue they will serve a good end."
"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

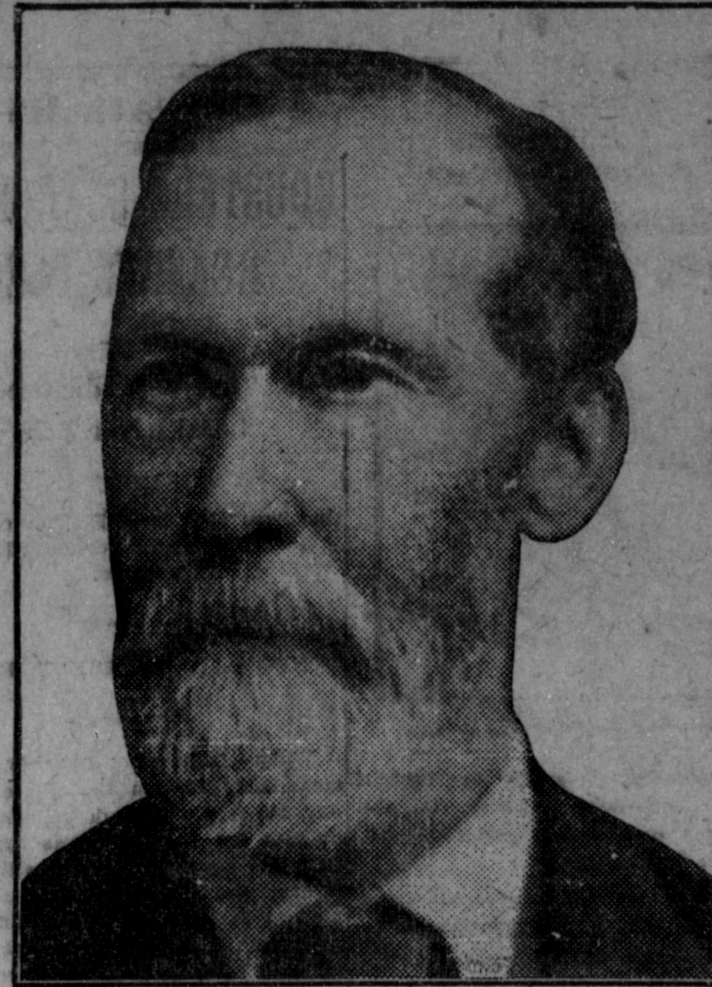

A REMARKABLE MIXTURE.

For those readers of this paper who have any form of blood disorder, who want new, rich blood and plenty of it, try this: Fluid Extract Dandelion one-half ounce, Compound Kargon one ounce, Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. Any good prescription pharmacy can supply the ingredients at small cost.

This is said to do wonders for many people whose skin and complexion show the condition of their blood, or who are sickly, weak and run down physically, and is known to relieve serious, long-standing cases of Rheumatism and chronic back-ache quickly.

Make some up and try it.

SALOONS

MUST BE CAREFUL OF CONDUCT IN THE FUTURE.

Council Decides to Reduce Number and Revoke Licenses for Misconduct of Holders.

After the regular business of the council last night President Pro Tem Lackey brought up the discussion of limiting the number of saloons in the city. Councilman Lackey stated he would like to see such an ordinance introduced. In Los Angeles, Cal., saloons are limited one to every 500 of population, and in Chicago, Boston and other large cities similar ordinances are in effect. Paducah now has 90 saloons and the plan is to limit the number until just 60 are operating, not increasing that number until the city grows larger.

"It is not the intention of the council to put any of the present saloonkeepers out of business so long as they obey the law, but when the law is violated to revoke the license and not grant one again to him or any other person at that location. In this way the number could be gradually reduced, and the keepers would necessarily be more circumspect."

All the members agreed that it would not be amiss. At present no license may be transferred and the city solicitor asked whether the present method should be observed in the new ordinance. The motion carried to have the same provision in the new ordinance. If a saloonkeeper discontinues business at his stand it shall be left to the discretion of the council as to whether another person shall be permitted to continue the place.

When a mistake turns out to be profitable it is no longer called a mistake.

MAKE YOUR DINING ROOM ATTRACTIVE

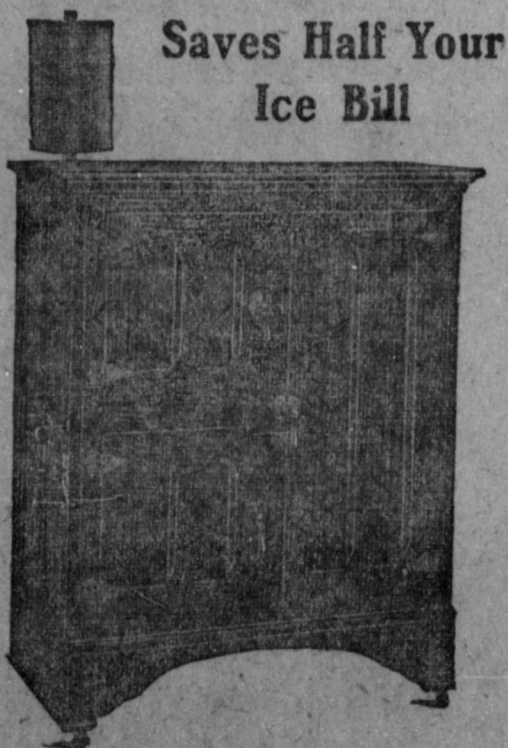

It is the Centre of Home Life

The Dining Room has been truly said to be the "centre of home life;" the whole family gathers round the board three times each day of their lives. Ought not this room to be one of the most attractive in the home? You are almost certain to want something for it, yet perhaps you think you have not the money to spare. Don't let this consideration keep you from carrying out the little improvements which you have planned. A dollar or two down and a little each week gives you free choice in the largest and most complete stock of Furniture in Paducah. Just glance through the list below and see how reasonably you may brighten up your dining room. And remember, a dollar opens an account with us.

The Herrick Refrigerator $14.50 to $75

If you expect to buy a Refrigerator this season, we want you to be sure to investigate the merits of the HERRICK. The use of a Herrick means a saving of half your ice bill; it means that your provisions are always kept fresh, sweet and untainted. The saving is effected by means of perfect circulation of dry, cold air.

The water cooling device in the Herrick is another very attractive feature. The water tank is located at either the top or side of the refrigerator, as you may see from the picture, and is on the outside, taking up no storage space. The water has no chance to take up that sickening, ammonia taste, as it does not come in contact with the ice at all. It passes from the tank through a block-tin coil, and is drawn from the faucet at the side, ice cold. Incidentally, this means quite a saving of ice, too, as the same ice which keeps your provisions gives you ice water also. If you are interested enough to test the claims of the Herrick, we will give you a THIRTY DAYS' FREE TRIAL. If it suits, keep it; otherwise return it and consider yourself under no obligations whatever.

Daily Thought.

Many a sin is overcome by best ignoring it.

SAVE THE SCHOOLS.

Scarcely acknowledging acquaintance with the school situation regarding the disposition of the seventh and eighth grades, and knowing little of the plans and hopes and prospects of manual training in the public schools, we resolutely refrained from interfering in the plans of the present school board, considering them matters of executive detail, on which our ignorance and lack of familiarity could shed little light; but in view of the information that has been forced on us by members of the High school alumni, patrons, pupils and teachers, we must raise our voice once more in protest against the purpose of the school board to drag down the institution at the best of certain mercenary school politicians. The two dismal leaders of this board seem to have but one primal conception of their duty—to undo everything Superintendent Lieb has done during his administration, their ears harken to no sound save the voices of the little clique that secured their nominations.

To protests of pupils, parents, teachers and alumni at the suggestion of scattering the seventh and eighth grades, they have replied, that poor children cannot afford car fare to the Washington building. The presumption is that these poor children will have to drop out of school when they enter the High school next year, unless the High school also is divided up and carried to the homes of the children. The fact is, that one or two principals of outlying buildings will receive from $10 to $20 more the month by the change.

When the trustees announced their platform of "Paducah public school jobs for Paducah people," and spread slander concerning principals and teachers who displeased them, and spoke falsehoods against the superintendent, and reduced the qualifications for High school principal, and cut out the departmental teachers, we feared that the public would acquiesce in everything; but we are gratified to see the patrons, and particularly the women of the city, rallying to the rescue of the schools and sentiment crystallizing that bids fair to drive politics from the system. We believe that if the people interested in the welfare of the schools will circulate a petition, securing all the names of those who are protesting against the proposed change in the seventh and eighth grades, and present it to the board, a respectable majority will prevent the two self-imposed leaders carrying out their design.

As to manual training a similar situation exists. Superintendent Lieb has been struggling single-handed to secure a foothold for manual training ever since his incumbency, as his annual reports and efforts show. He introduced it in the lower grades and maintained it as well as the meager allowance would permit, until the appropriation was stopped this year. The idea being fostered was correct. Manual training should commence at the bottom. After the period of infancy children manifest a penchant for making things. It is at this stage of development cultivation of handicraft should commence, and be carried out systematically.

It's pretty hard on public spirited citizens to try to sway a board, controlled as this one is, but we are delighted to have this class of citizens make the acquaintance of the school board. Knowledge of the board is necessary to a full appreciation of the school situation. And, then, we venture, it is harder still on some of the trustees to be controlled by the sort of leaders they have acquired.

Paducah is to have a centrally located park. Not only is this a source of gratification, but it is made doubly so, by the fact that the ugliest and most conspicuous spot in the city is picked out for the improvement. Do citizens realize how much this means? It is the most modern conception of park building. Other cities learned it by experience. The Paducah park board has been fortunate in having the precept and example of other cities before it, and circumstances, which make the site at Tenth street, Broadway and Kentucky avenue the most available. Not only will the park be well located for convenience down town, but an eye sore will be obliterated. Paducah is making strides in civic improvement morally and physically. Better streets and sidewalks; sewers; a wide awake board of health that is going to enforce sanitation; two parks, certain of construction this summer; drinking fountains in the business section; and a public sentiment, that is being fostered in favor of prettier homes and better schools by the Woman's club and the High school alumni. Habits of cleanliness and thrift grow on a city as on an individual, and ideas taught the citizens as a mass and exemplified in municipal affairs, affect the citizens in their private affairs and vice versa; for cleanliness and thrift and harmony and beauty and prosperity are allied and akin; and sometimes, we think, the women of Paducah are doing more for the material development of the city than the men.

Incidentally remarks the Kentucky State Journal, hopefully but vaguely: All the same we think that Mr. Bryan is the man for the nomination in 1908, and with a good running mate, either from the south or east, we feel sure that Democracy will come to its own.

Which, interpreted, means Democracy shall get what is coming to her.

Senator Dick, of Ohio, is for Foraker for United States senator, as opposed to Congressman Burton, we opine; but we doubt if the senatorial combination goes further than that.

We must excuse the shade of Thomas Jefferson if he appeared a trifle restless during Hearst's speech at the Jefferson day banquet.

New York pickpockets robbed a policeman. That could not have occurred in Chicago, where the spirit of fraternity is stronger.

One million dollars a day is the wage of the Pittsburgh toilers. A month's wages there will produce a good sized brain storm.

Studying the faults of others is a pleasant diversion, but we get better results by studying our own.

STRANGE VISITORS.

See Charles Kellock, Yegg, at County Jail.

Charles Kellock, convicted and sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary for breaking into Oscar Denker's saloon, Eighth and Harris streets, and for shooting at Patrolmen Dick Wood and Billy Orr, had visitors today.

"I will not give any names, and do not like to throw out any suspicion," said Jailer Eaker. "This morning a well known man came to the jail and sat about for a while. Finally he asked to see Kellock. I told him he might, knowing the man, but he explained that he desired to see him 'privately.' I took no chances, even though I knew the man well. I stood close by to see what was transacted. You see I am wary of Kellock. The visitor and the prisoner looked at each other steadily for several minutes and turning on his heel the visitor departed without a word to Kellock.

"The second visitor was a painter who came a little later to see Kellock. I refused him admittance to the jail."

DAMAGE OVER $12,000.

Oil in Illinois Central Wreck Boon To Farmers.

More definite figures on the loss in the Dulaney Hill wreck on the Illinois Central Sunday fix the damage at over $12,000. The oil in two destroyed tanks is worth 8 cents the gallon and the tanks held at least 3,500 gallons each, making a total of $5,600 for oil. The tanks are worth several thousand dollars and the four destroyed cars of merchandise can easily be approximated at $5,900. The railroad company is looking over the checking books to ascertain the amount of freight destroyed. Farmers profited by the wreck. When the oil tanks burst and permitted their contents to spread out, farmers secured shovels, hoes and spades and dug trenches to run the oil away from the cars. Holes were dug at the end of the trenches and the oil scooped out with buckets, cups and even hats. Several barrels of good coal oil were secured in this way.

BEAUTIFUL HOME SITE FOR SALE.

One of the handsomest sites for a suburban home near Paducah has been placed in our hands for sale. This is one of the few hills that has not been taken by the well-to-do of the city, but there is not a site near Paducah that commands a more beautiful view and not one that can be bought at a price more reasonable. Situated about two miles from the post office and embracing thirty acres of good land, having a regular and gradual slope on three sides, it commands a most picturesque view of Paducah and the surrounding country for miles beyond the Illinois bank. A little effort can make this place one of the most attractive homes in McCracken county. We shall be pleased to show you this property at any time.

At this meeting the demands of the men, which have been in the hands of the railroad officials for nearly 60 days, will be carefully considered and discussed. Representatives of the Indianapolis Southern, which is controlled by the Illinois Central, will also be present at the conference.

GETS THREE YEARS.

Youthful Thief Passed Rapidly Through Courts.

Robert Wilson, colored, who claims to be only 14 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon with a bicycle in his possession. The machine was identified as one stolen from Mr. Samuel Pumph, and later it was discovered that the negro had sold a lot of iron and junk to Mrs. Mary Baer, which was identified as that stolen from H. Ackerman, a junk dealer. Wilson was held over on the charge of grand larceny and of obtaining money by false pretenses. He was presented 15 minutes after leaving police court before County Judge R. T. Lightfoot and sentenced to three years in the state reformatory.

SPECIAL SESSION.

The school board will meet in called session Wednesday night to consider the report of committees and to transact other business. The contract with Superintendent-elect Carnegie, will be closed. The deed to the Longfellow building will be made out and turned over to the committee from the Odd Fellows. It is probable that the committee having the commencement exercises in charge will report, though this may be deferred until the regular meeting in May. Any other business to come up before the board must be mentioned in the call for the extra session issued by President List.

HEALTH AND HAPPINESS.

"Life consists not in living, but in enjoying health."

We could all enjoy health if we conformed to Nature's simple laws. Disease is merely a result of the non-observance of those laws, either by negligence, accident or ignorance. These reasons are, as a rule, of little consequence after disease becomes manifest and properly diagnosed. It is the nature of the treatment and the results obtained that concern you.

Nature is the ever present factor in the cure of disease. The Osteopath appreciates this fact, and uses all means that are natural, recognizing and using diet, air, water, exercise and other hygienic measures as natural assistants to scientific manipulations to secure normality to any and all structure disturbances.

I should be pleased to refer you, at any time, to Paducah people you know well who can attest to what Osteopathy has done for them in cases of rheumatism, asthma, neuralgia, nervousness, stomach, liver, and bowel troubles, eczema, sick headaches, la grippe conditions, malaria, lumbago, disturbed blood conditions. If you are ill you owe it to yourself to investigate Osteopathy.

ROUSTERS SCARCE

which is free from abuse and vilification, serves to make them independent. I am not talking on a subject with which I have not had practical experience. Only a few days ago I had occasion to try to get rousters for a packet and if you had been present you would have heard my reasons amply verified. "Now, we ain't goin' on that boat. The mate on that boat calls you a ———. We can get work that's better'n that," is one typical answer.

"What I contend is, that a radical change over the conditions, which have existed on the river since steamboating began, must take place. Regular hours must be established and maintained. Officers must be employed who can get work out of the rousters without personal abuse. This can be done, because there is a growing class of river men who do it. The food need not be extravagant to be satisfactory. Until these conditions are realized, I do not believe that any change for the better will occur and the river men, who realize this and adapt themselves to the changed conditions, will be the captains of industry on the rivers in future years."

The Other View.

That admirably expresses one theory, though it must be admitted that it has the smaller number of advocates among river men. The other theory was expressed thus:

"There is no other explanation but the trifling character of the roustier. He'll work when he wants to, and if he doesn't want to, there's no making him. This idea of treating him better is preposterous. The better you treat him, the more trifling he becomes. He had been treated the same since steamboating began and why should it be necessary to change. He knows he's independent and he will do as he pleases. Get in a crowd of them and hear them talk.

"I've got a woman that can keep me in grub, I don't got to work on this ole boat nohow. Den, if it comes to a pinch, we can stic up a row and lay in de lock-up, if its cold and grub's scarce."

"I have heard such sentiments expressed myself. No, the conditions under which they work are all right, though there's no denying that labor is scarce and causing much financial loss on the river."

In the present situation, it is certain that both theories will be tried and the next year or two may see altogether different conditions on the river. It can be safely stated that white labor never will be the so-called tion, while the present conditions exist, for repeated trial has brought repeated failure.

Sunday School Teachers Training Class.

A number of Sunday school teachers of the city took the state examination in the first book of Sunday school training work last night at the parish house of Grace Episcopal church. The Rev. D. C. Wright, who has conducted the class, held the examination, which was a written one, and was successfully passed by all. The inclement evening limited the attendance somewhat. There will be no more meetings of the class until in the fall, when the second book will be taken up. The class has been a very successful and interesting one and was composed of teachers from various Sunday schools of the city. It has met regularly each Monday evening since the first of the year. Mr. Wright's lectures have attracted many who were not members, and were a feature of delightful interest.

STANDARD LEADS FIGHT OF ANTIS

Interview With H. H. Rogers Shows This Administration Accepts His Statement as Representing the Situation.

HAS FAILED IN ITS PURPOSE.

Washington, D. C., April 16.—According to the view of administration men here Standard Oil is now fairly at the head of the anti-Roosevelt movement, and it has begun to fight in the open.

There is said to be much significance in the interview with H. H. Rogers, published today in the Manufacturers' Record at Baltimore, in which the master man of the system seeks to put on President Roosevelt the personal responsibility for the fall in the prices of securities.

The more the interview is scanned the more it appears to contain a definite program, which was sketched out by the Standard Oil people long ago, when they were first prosecuted for receiving rebates, and which has since been formulated through speeches by Mayor Reuben, of Philadelphia, an docters in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the two states where the anti-Roosevelt propaganda has been openly begun.

In his Baltimore interview Mr. Rogers says: "I believe that the sentiment of the country will have so crystallized within a few months that there will be practically unanimous conservatism in the conduct of the government."

There is some sense in this, of course, and yet from the whole tenor of the interview the attitude of President Roosevelt is attacked by inference, although, of course, he is not mentioned by name.

Plans of the Campaign.

It is evident according to the statement of Mr. Rogers that the plan of campaign adopted by the anti-Roosevelt crowd is to put out a series of interviews and arguments and to back these up by occasional hurries in Wall street, with the idea of persuading business men and small investors that President Roosevelt's attitude is unsettling prices and that the policy he has advocated of the regulation of railroads and corporations will break down the value of all securities and thus reduce the savings of the poor and the fortunes of the moderately rich, as well as of those having large investments.

Everyone who is in touch with the Wall street district even remotely knows how bitter has been the spirit there against Roosevelt and his financial and economic policies. The stock speculators have been readily influenced by the railroad men, insurance manipulators, and a thousand and one henchmen of Standard Oil, until they have honestly come to believe that the scarcity of money, the depression in the prices of stock, and everything else undesirable from a frost on the peach crop to decreased attendance in the churches is to be laid at the door of President Roosevelt, and him alone.

Hitherto this feeling has had but little influence throughout the country, where the opinions of Wall street are not received with respect.

Work Secretly and Openly.

Now, however, an attempt is to be made to attack President Roosevelt and his administration both secretly and openly.

Politicians who are in sympathy with the Standard Oil movement are afraid to attack the administration openly, but they are expected to cooperate under the surface.

It was not supposed that the Standard Oil company would show its hand openly at such an early stage of the SHORT TALKS BY L. T. COOPER.

"HOW TO KEEP HEALTHY."

"I am not a believer in too much medicine. Don't take medicine all the time. Get a good tonic and take it until the old vitality returns then stop. A general tonic and system renovator should be taken in the spring and fall. For this purpose there is nothing better on earth than Cooper's New

MISS MIDDLETON

Discovery, but I advise no one to take this medicine or any other all year long. Give nature a chance. Establish regularity in movement of the bowels. Drink plenty of water but not at meal time. Chew your food very carefully and eat slowly. Sleep with the window open, don't be afraid of fresh air and do not eat a great deal of grease. Be regular at meals. Go to bed and get up at the same hour each day if possible. Take a bottle of Cooper's New Discovery twice a year and your life should be long and healthy.

Here is what Cooper's New Discovery does for run-down people who need a tonic:

"I have been sick for a number of years with stomach trouble and also from backaches and headaches. Sometimes I became so weak I could not stand on my feet. My food did not seem to nourish me and I could not gain strength. I felt tired to death all the time. Nothing I took helped me, and hearing so much of Cooper's medicine I decided to try them."

"I have taken two bottles of Cooper's New Discovery with the most remarkable results. I now feel entirely well. My appetite is fine, I sleep well, have no more headaches and am quite strong again. I cannot express my thanks for what these medicines have done." Sallie Middleton, 1957 Central Avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Ask us about these medicines. We sell them. W. B. McPherson, campaign. It has often been said, however, that H. H. Rogers and others in the management of the great oil monopoly had no conception of the real condition of public opinion in regard to them and their financial operations. Evidently this is so, because the interview with Mr. Rogers which is printed in the Manufacturers' Record, instead of crystallizing public sentiment against Roosevelt, is almost certain to have a contrary effect.

Any open statement of hostility by the head of the Standard Oil company can only make friends for Roosevelt, and it is strange that the political allies of Rogers should not have made this fact perfectly clear to him before he embarked on the uncertain sea of interviews and adopted a policy of taking the public into his confidence, as Harriman did when he was here in Washington.

Instead of crystallizing public opinion many of the friends of the administration declare they will secure copies of this interview and circulate it throughout the country for the express purpose of showing that Standard Oil is openly arrayed against the president and his policies.

What H. H. Rogers Said. Particular attention has been drawn to one significant paragraph of Rogers' interview, in which he says:

"There is more wealth in the country today than ever known before. Conditions, requirements and methods of carrying on all kinds of business, including farming, have so changed in recent years that general stagnation is almost impossible today. The people throughout the country will seek to invest their surplus funds in bonds and other securities, and they will demand that conditions exist whereby these investments will not be subject to disturbing influences, and that important development enterprises are not hampered by unnecessary and continued agitation."

This statement is exactly in line with reports previously made to President Roosevelt and administration leaders as to the plans of the anti-Roosevelt crowd. By public speeches, by private letters and by means of newspapers favorable to their ideas, they expect during next year to mold public opinion in such a way as to make it appear that the radical policy of President Roosevelt is injuring the business of the country.

To Hurt Him Personally.

The purpose of this campaign is first of all to hurt the president personally. They would like to discredit him and his policies, but they would rather start with him and wind up with his policies.

Kidney Disease

Nature has given you kidneys to keep your blood clean and pure. As the blood flows through them the waste matter it brings from all over your body is filtered out through millions of little tubes, so small that they can be seen only under a microscope. Unless these tiny tubes are kept open, waste matter accumulates in your blood.

If the blood is chilled in any part of your body, or held back by pressure or injury, uric acid turns into little crystals, resembling sharp grains of fine sand. Over-feeding also may produce so much waste matter that your blood can't keep the uric acid dissolved, and the crystals are formed. Your kidneys cannot pass these crystals—they lodge and collect in the little filtering tubes, where they scratch and irritate the tender fibres, just as grains of sand would do in your eye. This irritation causes the pain in your back which warns you of kidney disease, Bright's Disease and death.

At the very first sign of kidney disease, you must take LIFE PLANT. LIFE PLANT has the power of dissolving the hard uric acid grains, being provided by Nature for just that purpose. You will feel relief from the first, and in a short time LIFE PLANT will have gently washed every trace of uric acid out of your kidneys (or wherever else it may exist) and give the organ back its blood-purifying powers. Thousands have saved themselves by taking LIFE PLANT. Read what Mr. John Lemon, of Wadsworth, Ohio, says:

"In regard to your medicine, I think it can't be best in the world. One I was so bad that I could not walk. I took one bottle and can say that I feel all right. My kidneys troubled me and I was dizzy in my head. That has about all left me. I think one more bottle will fix me all right. I can't say too much for Life Plant."

If you have any trouble whatever, write your symptoms to L. J. Mizer, M. D., President of the Life Plant Co., who will send you his personal advice, free. Our book—GOOD HEALTH—mailed to anyone free on request.

CHAPTER XI.

"IN the most unlikely places," Duncombe murmured to himself as he bowed to the Frenchman whose name his friend had mentioned. "I am very glad to meet you again, M. le Baron," he said aloud.

They were in the covered garden at the Ritz. Duncombe had accepted the pressing invitation of an old college friend whom he had met on the boulevards to drop in and be introduced to his wife. And the third at the tea table was M. Louis, known in society apparently as M. le Baron de Suers.

Lady Lindley, his friend's wife, smiled languidly upon them both. She was a frail pink and white little woman with the reputation of a beauty to sustain, wherein lay her life's work.

"You two know each other, of course," she remarked. "Paris is no larger than London, after all."

"Sir George and I have met once at least," the baron said, smiling. "I am glad that he does me the honor of remembering the occasion."

Duncombe felt himself no match for his companion with the folks. He let the conversation drift and waited for his opportunity. Presently some more guests arrived, and Duncombe drew his host on one side.

"Hadley," he said, "how long have you known the baron?"

"Met him at Dorset House about two years ago, I think," Hadley answered. "He was doing a round of country houses. I'm not sure that he didn't stay at Sandringham. One of the real old French families, you know, the De Suers."

Duncombe nodded. There did not seem to be much that he could say. He mingled with the other guests and observed his social duties. But he watched the baron, and he took care that they left together.

"Are you going my way, baron?" he asked as they stepped into the Place Vendôme.

"I was going to the Cercle Anglais," the baron answered. "Do you belong?"

"I am up for a month's membership, but I am not elected yet," Duncombe answered.

"Then you shall come in as my guest," the baron declared.

"You are exceedingly kind," Duncombe answered. "I wonder whether I might presume still further upon your good nature and ask you a question."

"The asking," the baron murmured, "involves nothing."

"You hear, I am told, an honorable name, and you are well received in society. Why do you associate with murderers and thieves in that hell of a cafe where I saw you first?"

The baron smiled. "My friend," he said, "I seek always the life amusing, and I find it there."

"I was robbed before your eyes, baron."

The Frenchman sighed. "I am so sorry," he said, "that I did not see it. That indeed would have been amusing."

"You know that the young lady who sat with us is dead?"

"A most bizarre happening," the baron assented, with a little sigh. "I cannot imagine how it occurred. The newspaper reports are not convincing. One would like to reconstruct the story. Poor little Flossie! She was most amusing, but just a little, a very little, too fond of flourishing her jewelry. One will miss her though."

"Referring for one moment to our meeting at the cafe. You told me a story there—of a young English lady, which the facts seem scarcely to sustain."

The baron sighed. "My friend," he said, "we did the best we could at a moment's notice. I rather fancied the story myself. As to facts, what have they to do with it? You demanded a story, and you got it. I rather flattered myself that under the circumstances it was not bad."

"You admit now, then, that it was not the truth?"

"The truth! My dear Sir George! Supposing that the whereabouts of your charming young friend had been known to me, do you suppose that I should have permitted myself to have been bullied into disclosing it? Forgive me, if I speak plainly, but if you really wished for information which you supposed that I had your method of seeking it put you at once out of court. A French gentleman does not permit himself to be bullied."

Duncombe was silent for several moments. There were many things which he could have said, but where was the use?

"As a French gentleman, then," he said at last, "will you permit me to make a personal appeal to you? Miss Phyllis Poynton is a young lady in whom I am deeply interested. She was last seen at the Cafe Montmartre, from which place she disappeared. I am an Englishman of my own station. Tell me where I can find her or what has become of her."

"My dear Sir George," the baron said, "you might have saved yourself a great deal of trouble if you had spoken like this to me at the first. Frankly, then, I have not the least idea. Young English ladies come and go every evening at the Cafe Montmartre and such places. One remembers only those who happen to have amused one and not always those. Forgive me if I speak plainly. A young lady who had visited the Cafe Montmartre alone—well, you might look for her anywhere, but most assuredly in that case if your anxiety was to induce her to return to her friends you would be a little too late. Ah! We have arrived! Now, my friend, I must make you free of the place."

Duncombe was fuming with anger, but he had discretion enough to remain silent.

"Do you play bridge?" the baron asked as they entered the card room.

"Occasionally," Duncombe assented. "I will go and see if I can find any men," the baron remarked. "I will leave my young friend, De Bergillac, to entertain you. The Vicomte de Bergillac—Sir George Duncombe."

Duncombe shook hands with a pale, weary looking youth, most immaculately dressed, but whose whole appearance was distinguished by marked symptoms of lassitude and ill health. They sat in easy chairs almost opposite to one another, and Duncombe found the other's scrutiny almost embarrassing.

"You speak French perhaps—yes?" the young man asked at length.

"Yes, I speak French," Duncombe admitted.

"Then listen to me," the vicomte said slowly. "I speak as one man of honor to another. Do not play cards in this club."

"Not play cards? Why not?" Duncombe asked, amazed.

"You can take my advice or leave it," the vicomte answered calmly. "I have no explanation to offer you. If you choose to repeat my remark you would place me in an exceedingly awkward position. You see, I rely upon you as a man of honor."

"I am only too much obliged to you for the hint," Duncombe declared. "But this club—the Cercle Anglais?"

"The club is all right," the vicomte admitted calmly. "Unfortunately there is no place in Paris which would be entirely safe for you. You have the misfortune, you see, to be in opposition to some of my friends, who have really unlimited opportunities for making things disagreeable for you. Now I am beginning to talk, and it is very foolish of me. Why don't you leave Paris, Sir George?"

"Why should I?" Duncombe asked a little sharply. "I break no laws here. I wrong no one. I am here on my own business, and I only ask to be let alone."

The vicomte regarded him as one might look at a spoiled child whom it was yet advisable to humor.

"Ah," he said, "they will not let you alone. You are so obstinate, like all your country people, or you would recognize it without my risking so much by speaking. You will have to leave Paris and very soon. It is so easily managed. A dispute at cards here—your word certainly be in the wrong—and an ugly scandal if you were not away in twenty-four hours. It is one method of a thousand."

"You know so much," Duncombe said. "I have no doubt that you know the one thing which I would give years of my life to be satisfied about."

The boy's dark eyes were fixed steadily upon him.

"Sir George," he said, "there is nothing which I can possibly say to you. My warning has been exceedingly foolish, but after all if I can persuade you to leave Paris I shall have done no great harm. As for the cards—well, I must plead guilty to weakness there. I have not the slightest objection to taking the life of a man who is making a nuisance of himself, but his honor or I think one should not tamper with. May I offer you a cigarette? Well, Louis, what luck?"

The baron had strolled into the room and was sitting on the arm of a chair.

"It will be all right directly," the baron answered. "We have three, and old P'aron has telegraphed that he will be here in five minutes."

Duncombe rose to his feet.

"It was really very careless of me," he said, "but I completely forgot that I had an engagement at the hotel at 6 o'clock. I am afraid that I shall not be able to stop."

The baron glanced quickly at his young friend. There was nothing whatever to be learned, though, from his pale, boyish face. His own countenance was as calm as a lake.

nance had darkened for the moment, but he recovered his composure immediately.

"As you will," he answered carelessly. "Perhaps you can drop in later. Come and dine, will you, at half past 8?"

"I am much obliged to you, baron," Duncombe said, "but I cannot accept your invitation. I am a lover of plain speaking, so I will not plead a previous engagement. But the one thing I want from you, the thing which I have almost a right to demand, you will not give. I do not feel, therefore, that any more than ordinary intercourse is possible between us."

The baron bowed gravely.

"My dear Sir George," he said, "I am answered. I wish I could drive out of my mind that extraordinary hallucination relative to my supposed knowledge of your young English friend. It is impossible. Very good. I shall look forward to a time, Sir George, when we may meet on a better footing."

Duncombe left the hotel with the recollection of that curiously ironic smile fresh in his mind.

HEN ADOPTS PUPS.

Spreads Wings Over Infants She Thinks She Hatched.

Queer complications are reported from the barnyard of Engineer James Cairnes, of 925 Broadway. It is the joint occupancy of a dry goods box by a hen, mother dog and six bird dog puppies. The box was arranged in the barn for the dog, and it has also been used while the dog was not occupying it by an old hen for a nest. When the puppies were born the hen did not seem to mind it but continued to occupy the box. She would cover the tiny puppies with her wings the same as she would in protecting her young, and no one but the mother dog is allowed to come near her strange foster children. The puppies are now two weeks old and seem to like the hen nearly as much as their mother.

Many make the mistake of underestimating their possibilities, and oversatisfying their difficulties.

MUSIC FESTIVAL

Will Commence in Louisville This Week.

Walter Damrosch has completed the program for the music festival to be given in Louisville April 18, 19 and 20 and it surpasses in elaborateness any program ever before prepared for a similar event in the Falls City. Five concerts will be given and in addition to Mr. Damrosch's New York Symphony orchestra, which will be increased for the festival, and the Musical Club chorus of Louisville with 325 voices, some of the most eminent concert soloists in the country have been engaged.

The first concert, Thursday night, April 18 has been designated by Mr. Damrosch as "Grand Wagner Night" and the entire program will consist of interpretations of the great master. Ellison Van Hoose, tenor, and Alexander Salslavsky, violinist, will be the soloists, and the Musical Club chorus will sing in the choral numbers. Selections from "Tannhauser," "Lohengrin," "Tristan and Isolde," "Die Meistersinger" and other operas form the program.

Miss Alice Sovereign, contralto, and Francis Macmillen, violinist, will be the soloists for the second concert, Friday afternoon, April 19th. Miss Sovereign will sing the aria "Che faro" from Gluck's "Orpheus and Euridice." The orchestra will play selections from the works of Tchaikowsky, Rubinstein and Rimsky-Korsakov.

The oratorio "Elijah," will be given Friday night with William Harper, said to be the greatest American "Elijah" singing the title role. Other soloists will be Mrs. Mary Hissem de Moss, soprano; Miss Alice Sovereign, contralto, and Kelley Coe, tenor. The Musical Club chorus will sing the choral parts.

The program for the Saturday matinee concert will be what might be termed a popular program. The soloists will be Mrs. Mary Hissem de Moss soprano; Miss Cornelle Overstreet, piano; Leon Leroy, clarinet; and Leo Schulz, violin cello. The

PEACE CONGRESS UNDER HEADWAY

Hears Speeches And Messages of Prominent Men

President Urges Delegates To Be Practical and Not To Expect Too Much.

ROOT DEFINES OUR POSITION

New York, April 16.—Warned by President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Root that if success is to crown those who are working for peace among the nations of the world their endeavor must be along practical lines, that they must not, by insisting upon the impossible, put off the day when the possible can be accomplished, the National Arbitration and Peace conference, which is meeting in this city under the presidency of Andrew Carnegie, began its real activities with two crowded sessions in Carnegie hall.

The president in his letter to the congress, expressed the hope that the coming conference might result in the adoption of an international arbitration treaty. Root, after seconding this hope, declared the United States thought it proper to urge again the discussion of the limitation of armament of nations on land and sea and abolition of the practice of using force in the collection of debts owed by one nation to citizens of another.

Carnegie Praises the Kaiser. Carnegie in his address to the congress paid tribute to President Roosevelt and expressed the wish that Roosevelt might be the peace-maker of the future. He declared, however, that Emperor William is the man among all men, who holds the peace of nations in his power.

At the afternoon session the speakers were: Secretary Root, Governor Hughes, of New York, Mayor McClellan, of New York city, and Andrew Carnegie.

It was at the afternoon session also that the letter from Roosevelt was read. Last night the speakers included Baron Destournelles De Constant, a member of the French senate and head of the international conciliation committee and Secretary Straus, of the department of commerce and labor who spoke upon "The Peace of Nations and War Within Nations." Straus also spoke of the Nobel Peace Prize which last year was conferred upon President Roosevelt.

A full inch of rain fell yesterday, but the river fell 0.2 in the last 24 hours. The stage this morning was 21.2. April 16 last year the stage was 34.9. Business at the wharf is fair.

No rousters is again the cry of the Buttorff and the Clarksville trip will be missed this week, and unless the situation changes the Buttorff may not arrive tomorrow for the Nashville trip.

The Pacific, No. 2, had a big tow for such a small towboat yesterday, going down. There were 30 pieces in the tow, consisting of barges, coal boats, coal flats and a derrick.

The Chattanooga will leave this evening at 5 o'clock for the Tennessee river as far as Chattanooga. Business continues good with the packers in the Paducah-Chattanooga trade.

The Harry Brown with 25 empties passed up this morning early from the Mississippi river. Several others of the train of towboats that went down ten days ago, are headed back toward Pittsburg.

The City of Memphis arrived this morning from the Tennessee river with a fair trip and today is at Metropolis unloading. Returning this afternoon, the Memphis will be stripped of officers and accoutrements for the Clyde, and for the present will lie up in the Tennessee river. The Memphis may be thoroughly overhauled here as the Clyde was. The Clyde will leave Wednesday evening for the Tennessee river.

The W. W. was taken out on the ways yesterday and will require several days work. The W. W. is a good looking boat with lots of gingerbread work on it.

Roy Broadfoot has shipped on the John Hopkins as pilot. The John Hopkins arrived this morning from Evansville and left before noon for the same point.

The Nellie passed down yesterday with a big raft for Metropolis mills. Captain Frank Wagner has finished the city dump boat and it was launched from the wharf yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

The Cape Girardeau with the Alton Eagle in tow, will leave Thursday for St. Louis. There have been many false alarms about these boats leaving but this announcement seems definite, the Fannie Wallace having called them yesterday.

The Eagle did not get away until yesterday for the Mississippi river after logs, and had in tow the barges and derrick boats of the Lipscomb Lumber company of St. Louis.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon, will fall slowly during the next several days. At Paducah, no material change during the next 12 hours, followed by falling. At Cairo, will rise slightly during the next 12 to 24 hours, then fall.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth, and the Wabash, at Mt. Carmel will continue falling during the next 24 to 36 hours.

casion being the comedy drama, "The Tide of Life," presented by the Blunkall-Atwood company.

"There are several good actors in the company and every member worked hard to bring out the points in their respective characters. Mr. Blunkall as Tom Daly, the ex-detective, gave a manly performance of a difficult role. He is ably supported by Miss Lyllian Atwood, Miss Anna Kilduff, Mr. Bereh, Mr. Otto Thebus, Mr. Will Thebus and others. The specialties presented by Miss Kilduff, the Thebus Bros, and Mr. Barbet were applauded heartily."
